REV. AND MRS. L. R. BURRESS.

Affectionate Greetings and Goodbyes at Their Old Home.

On the occasion of their recent visit to their former home county in Mississippi, the Prentiss Plaindealer published the following:

"Goodbyes" have been said to our much beloved Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Burress, who spent a few weeks with relatives and friends in their old home county—Prentiss. Goodbye, with fond recollections of the happy hours that are gone.

Rev. Burress and his excellent wife were not only listened to and seen by hundreds, but thousands who came from far and near to meet them while in Mississippi. Rev. Burress is recognized as both clear and wise in speech, with broad views, handling subjects under consideration with the familiar ease that the potter fashions clay. His judgment is recognized as convincing not exercised abruptly but concisely. He rivets attention by logical statements, beautiful language and correctness of speech. He holds his friends because of his fidelity and justice. He believes not one law for the Medes, and another for the Persians, but one applicable to all alike. His compensations are hosts of friends who love and esteem them and theirs in their far away home, Brownsville, Texas. Their visit and Rev. Burress' beautiful sermons and addresses are an inspiration of better ideals and their memory dear to all.
